FIND NO CLUE IN BOMB MYSTERIES

POLICE UNABLE TO SOLVE THE LATEST DYNAMITING OF BUILDINGS.

DAMAGE WAS VERY SEVERE

One Man Killed, Fourteen Badly Injured, Loss Hundred Thousand Dollars.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Chicago, Ill., June 28.—The cause of the explosion, which, last night, wrecked the telephone exchange in the heart of the city, did damage to property estimated to exceed a hundred thousand dollars, and inflicted injuries which may be fatal to one man and slightly wounded fourteen others, is still unexplained.

After several hours of careful investigation the police are unable to determine whether the terrible detonation was the work of persons desiring to harm the telephone company or another series of bombs which have marked the progress of what is known as the "Gambler's War."

A number of employees of the telephone company are on a strike and the principal damage was done to fifteen cables, controlling 25,000 telephones.

Among the buildings damaged was the Chicago Title and Trust building, sixteen stories high.

RIOTING BEGINS IN PITTSBURG TODAY; SHOTS WERE FIRED

Entire Police Force is Held in Reserve to Meet Emergencies That May Arise.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Pittsburgh, June 28.—The entire police force of greater Pittsburgh was held in reserve today because it was feared that when an attempt would be made by the street car company whose employees are striking, to start the cars, there would be rioting.

The first real violence in the strike situation occurred shortly after one o'clock today when fourteen alleged strike-breakers were charged away from the ranks of the car barn by union sympathizers and a fusillade of shots greeted the strike-breakers as they emerged from the barn. County Detective Engler was badly beaten up by the crowd.

A long, drawn-out parley between Mayor Magee, who threatens to use his plenary powers and end the strike, and the executive of the strike committee of motormen and conductors, adjourned this afternoon with the strike situation unsolved.

BELATED HONORS TO G. A. R. FOUNDER

GRANITE SHAFT TO BE DEDICATED NEXT SATURDAY.

DR. STEPHENSON'S MEMORY

Honored and Revered by All Members of Great Organization—Taff Takes Part in Exercises.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, D. C., June 28.—The last public function which President Taft will attend before his departure for the summer capital near Beverly, Mass., will be the unveiling and dedication of the granite memorial erected here in honor of Dr. H. P. Stephenson, founder of the Grand Army of the Republic. The ceremony will take place on Saturday afternoon and President Taft and Representative J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania will be the orators of the occasion.

All the regular troops of the city will participate in the parade and dedication ceremonies and Brig. Gen. W. W. Witherspoon will be grand marshal. Gen. Wood, commanding the Department of the East, has ordered the following troops to take part: Headquarters band and three troops, 15th Cavalry, and the 2d Battalion of the 3d Field Artillery at Fort Myer; the Engineer Band and Companies A and B, 1st Battalion of Engineers, Washington barracks, and two companies of the Coast Artillery Corps of Fort Washington, Maryland. Major P. S. Foltz, 15th Cavalry, will have command of the regular troops.

The memorial is on the circular park of the east side of 7th street, at the intersection of Louisiana and Pennsylvania avenues. It was designed by J. Massey Rhind, a New York sculptor, and consists of a tall triangular shaft of gray granite with bronze reliefs on the three sides, representing fraternity, charity and loyalty, the principles of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The erection of this monument is the first and rather belated attempt to honor the memory of the man who founded the Grand Army of the Republic. The movement for the erection of a memorial to him was first suggested a few years ago by Col. John McElroy, who had joined the army when he was a boy and had served in the 16th Illinois Cavalry. Col. McElroy labored indefatigably to interest the Grand Army and other patriotic organizations for his plan and it was principally due to his efforts that the Grand Army and the Woman's Relief Corps contributed the necessary funds for the purpose.

Benjamin Franklin Stephenson was born in Wayne county, Illinois, October 20, 1822. In 1825 his parents removed to Sangamon county, where he grew to manhood. He graduated from Rush Medical college in 1850, and began to practice at Petersburg, Ill. In 1861 he was elected surgeon of the 14th Illinois Infantry and he served with his regiment until June 23, 1863, when he was mustered out. At the close of the war he returned to his practice and established himself at Springfield, Ill.

During Sherman's expedition to Meridian, in February, 1864, Stephenson and the Rev. Wm. J. Rutledge, chaplain of the 14th Illinois Infantry, discussed the plan of forming an association among those who had served in the union army or navy during the civil war, and would preserve the friendships formed among comrades and keep alive the memories of their common trials and dangers. In March, 1866, the two met by appointment in Springfield and further discussed the matter. The first national encampment was held at Decatur, Ill., April 6, 1868. The first national encampment was held in Indianapolis, Ind., beginning on November 20, 1868.

It was a grievous disappointment to Dr. Stephenson when representatives of the Grand Army, assembled at Springfield, Ill., to form a Department of the American Revolution, selected another for the highest honors of the order he had founded. A similar disappointment awaited him at Indianapolis, where the national encampment was formed. Although Major Stephenson then accepted a subordinate position as Adjutant-general, he felt and felt his death that he had been slighted by his comrades in these instances. Stephenson died in Meridian county, Illinois, August 20, 1871.

MAKES REPORT ON INSURANCE LAWS

SUPERINTENDENT OF NEW INSURANCE OFFICE FILES RESULT OF INVESTIGATION.

GOES INTO MANY DETAILS

Says Laws Are Not Too Strict and That They Were Justified by Conditions.

Albany, N. Y., June 28.—Superintendent of Insurance William H. Hetchkins has transmitted to Governor Charles D. Hughes a report prepared by the department's auditor, J. H. Woodward, on the effect on the business of life insurance of the so-called Armstrong amendments to the New York insurance law. This report shows that, while there was a notable falling off during the past three years in the business of New York companies, such falling off was due primarily to the disclosure of the investigation, and not to the amendments themselves, and such companies are now rapidly recovering.

An abstract of the report prepared by the State Insurance department says:

The investigation resulting in the report was suggested by a resolution adopted by the New York assembly at its recent session, calling upon the Insurance department for a concise statement of gains or losses in the total amount of insurance in force in the years 1906, 1907 and 1908, in ten of the insurance companies doing business in New York, seven of them being companies of other states. This resolution never reached the department officially; therefore, the information called for by it was not given at the time. The department is now able to furnish such information, but only as to the thirty-four life companies doing business in the state, and based upon figures resulting from its audit of their annual statements of December 31, 1908. Annexed to the report were tables, based upon these statements, giving the official figures of increase or decrease, as well as total insurance in force, new business written in 1908, and contingency reserves, or so-called safety funds, of all of the companies doing business in New York.

The report went out to show the condition of the New York banking companies that there was a falling off in receipts, although the assets had increased. The report concluded with the statement that the investigation was a "good thing" and that the laws restricting the insurance business were well made.

"HOT! HOT! HOT!"
"Did you ever see such weather in June?"
"Well, hardly ever," was the response, as the bald-headed man threw his coat over a bench in the park and mopped his brow with a red handkerchief. "And yet," he continued, "this weather's alright after all. Listen," and pulling a paper out of his pocket he read the following:
"These hot days, during which the sun takes good aim at the north temperate zone while the earth rolls round obediently to turn every side of it to his benignant smile, are worth millions of dollars to every agricultural country in the great temperate belt. There are sixty days ahead of us within which, for instance, our own 32,000,000 acres of cotton will have to be brought from the state of the tender plant to the point of the hurrying boll.
"The value of the crop, at the prices which the trader now agrees to pay, is $25 a bale of 500 pounds each. Assuming that the outlay already made is equal to $15 a bale, and that a 13,000,000-bale crop would add $10 more a bale in the next sixty-five days, the rate at which the sun is adding value to this single crop amounts to $8,000,000 a day. Few a money-maker, therefore, Old Sol beats high finance all to pieces.
"His golden smile is beaming all over 105,000,000 acres of our corn lands. He is boasting that he could crop so fast that if you only had the courage to sit up nights out where the long corn rows run, you could really hear it grow. He is putting the bright brown touches on the berry of the winter wheat in the south. He is lengthening out the bearded heads of spring wheat meanwhile.
"Nor does he forget to bring on oats and hay so that no two of them call for the labor of the grower at exactly the same stage of the season.
"Within the next four months the sun has much to do to provide food for man and feed for beast. He works according to universal law and dispenses his freely to the millions who know how to utilize his power."
Folding up the paper for a fan, and sitting down in the shade by his friend, he said: "Yes, it's awful hot. I know, but if 'Old Sol' is adding a million dollars a minute to the people's treasury I guess we can stand it, for that beats Rockefeller to a standstill, and the money is more evenly distributed," and he was pretty near right.

A LOCAL ISSUE
If there is any doubt about the tariff being a local issue, the action of southern democrats on the pineapple question removes it. This is what happened as related by the Wall Street Journal:
"When the Payne committee was hearing what it was pleased to call evidence, in framing the tariff bill for the lower house, it was necessary in these columns to call attention to the demands of the Florida fruit growers as an example of what protection run crazy could do. It is true they are not more unreasonable than their fellows in California, but in securing an increase of 12% on the Payne bill's import duty on pineapples, they make something like a record for sheer greed.

"It was admitted by the Florida fruit growers themselves that the pineapple in their state was 'a bit out of its native element.' In other words the only possible varieties were liable to be nipped out entirely by frost. In no case could they hope for a quality anywhere equal to the imported article, now well within reach of the humblest purse. Nevertheless, the fruit growers wanted to try experiments, and preferred to do so with other people's money. It need hardly be said that the democratic senators, committed to tariff for revenue only, affixed their approval to a duty which made even Mr. Aldrich's strong stomach turn a little. The Tallifero amendment raising the Payne duty 12% was carried against Senator Aldrich's vote. Nine democrats voted for the increase and fourteen could not muster up courage enough to protest against this policy; while only eight of the party of Thomas Jefferson and low tariff took the side of common decency.
"If there were the least prospect of building up a business in home-grown pineapple something might be said even for this high protection. One frost, however, puts the grower back where he began, and until we can entirely alter the meteorological conditions of the United States, the consumer of pineapple will be paying for an experiment foredoomed to failure."
And thus it has been all along the line. Sugar, tobacco, hides, and every other commodity demands high protection by local representatives. These are the combination with which Aldrich has had to deal.

Africa is not the only country which is producing gold in liberal amount, as will be seen from the following statement:
"Six tons and a half of gold, $3,200,000 worth of virgin metal, the largest single shipment ever brought out from Alaska, was unloaded from the steamship Jefferson, of the Alaska Steamship company, this morning. Of that sum $2,800,000 was sent out by mail and about $400,000 by express, coming from Fairbanks, Crete, Dawson and other rich camps of the interior.
"The shipment on the Jefferson, beside being the largest ever brought out, indicates a very large clean-up in Alaska this summer, and consequent prosperity in the north. Mail advices from the Tanana state that the dumps on all the creeks are showing up better than ever, and it is said that from $11,000,000 to $15,000,000 will be a conservative estimate of the output of the Tanana alone."—Seattle Times, June 18.

The crowded houses which greeted Rev. Mr. Denison both morning and evening at the Congregational church yesterday was a flattering compliment to the retiring pastor. The best wishes of the city go with him to his new field of labor, for he enjoys in rare degree the love and confidence of the community where he has wrought so long and faithfully. The Gazette voices public sentiment in wishing him "Godspeed."

The advance in price, on many lines of goods, will be charged to the tariff, when the tariff really has nothing to do with it. Supply and demand regulate prices on all commodities, and the fact should not be overlooked that the surplus stocks in all lines are exhausted, because of conditions which have existed since the panic. Under the stimulus of a lively demand and short supply prices are bound to advance.
The new state board of control has two new members and its personnel is greatly improved. One of the first duties of the board is to appoint superintendents for the several state institutions. If wise they will give the pupils and teachers of the State School for the Blind a fair and impartial hearing. When a whole household is in rebellion there is cause for complaint.
The Northwestern Life Insurance company is talking seriously of removing its headquarters to some other state, where the laws are less burdensome. Taxes under the laws recently enacted are $1,000 a day, and this burden is born by the policyholders. This is a fine proposition, and the legislature should be proud of its work.

The 1910 output of American automobiles is estimated at 200,000 at an average price of $1,200. Many carriage factories are planning to install an auto department to supply the demand of farmers. The vehicle has come to stay, and the industry is yet in its infancy.

Uncle Walt of Emporia
By WALT MASON
(Copyright, 1909, by George Mathew Adams.)
I have seen a splendid picture of our good old Uncle Joe, in a bout with Jack O'Brien, who's in a worthy foe. I have sized up all the scoundrels who have fought in recent years, and they're all like selling platters when your Uncle Joe appears. Jeffries once was quite attractive, and his jokes were swift and hard, but he struck the easy places and he's all green up to here. Good old Fitz is in his day, once, and he's painful to the view; once there, "lookin' kangaroo. Nelson, he have party handy, he have best of all, at tank, but he's a mighty soldier who has whipped some savannah voters, but I've never had a passion for that style of rube brunettes. So it is with all the fighters there is something, wrong with each, till we strike the Danville Wonder, who is certainly a punch. He has all the speed and action that a critic could desire, and his footwork is a marvel, and his method full of fire; he can fairly slay a foe man with a shower of body blows; if you're anxious for statistics, any man in congress knows.

FOOTVILLE LADIES ENTERTAINED CLUB

Summer Club of Household Economics Held First Picnic for the Year on Friday Last.
On a special Chicago & North-Western train, arranged for by the committee for the Household Economics club of this city, one hundred and fifteen members of the club on Friday last went to Footville for the first picnic meeting of the summer. The train left Janesville at ten o'clock and the party was met at the Footville depot by Mrs. Carrie Statton and Mrs. S. W. Lacey who, with automobiles in waiting, escorted them to the pleasant home of Dr. and Mrs. Lacey.
A beautiful and very delicious dinner was served in Masonic hall by the ladies of the Christian church, to 180 people. A unique feature of the happy hour was the presence of a bride, a former resident of Footville, who was seated at the head of the long table with chair decorated in long ribbons and pink roses, with a large bouquet of the same. The tables were prettily decorated with naparagus ferns and bouquets of roses. Dinner over, the members were escorted to the home of Mrs. Mattice, where, under the shade of fine old trees, the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Ada P. Kimberley, who, on behalf of the hostesses, heartily welcomed the club to Footville, and on her own behalf said (with Theodore Roosevelt) she was "delighted" to see them all. One hundred and twenty-seven responded to the roll-call and twenty-four additional names were there, and then added, making a total to the club of 323. A vote of thanks was extended to the officers of the Merchants' and Mechanics' bank of Janesville for courtesies shown to the hostesses of the day for their generous hospitality, and to Miss King for her efficient work in securing the special train.
Hereafter the names of those wishing to become members of the club will be given to the recording secretary, Mrs. Fannie Conger, or to Mrs. Ada Kimberley, president, in order to avoid mistakes.
As guests of the club, Mrs. Colony and Mrs. Richardson, of Evansville, each talked in a very interesting manner. Mrs. Day collected a nice little sum of money (in addition to that already on hand) for philanthropic purposes. A letter was read from Sherman Kingsley, General Superintendent of United Charities, of Chicago—an appeal for giving Chicago children a two weeks' outing in the country. Folders sent out were passed to each member, together with programs for our work and places of entertainment during the season. We would also have the children selected and placed in homes this summer instead of a camp as heretofore. The chair appointed as a Committee of Fresh Air Children, Mrs. Day, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Helms, and Mrs. Will Corey of Footville.
The return trip was made at 4:30 and the day has been placed on record as one of the most successful and enjoyable of all the outings of the S. C. of H. E. Thanks are extended to the daily papers for many notices printed gratis.

TRIED TO GET INTO F. C. BURPEE HOME
William Stapleton Followed Attorney Home After Begging a Dime—Tom Nash to Spend the Fifth in Jail.
Saturday evening, about eight o'clock, a fairly respectable looking stranger exhibited fifteen cents to Attorney Fred Burpee and asked him to make it twenty-five in order that he might obtain a night's lodging. Mr. Burpee advanced the dime. About 10 p. m. the latter was aroused by the noise of someone falling in the doorway of his home at 203 Pleasant street and Mr. Burpee went out to find the petitioner for ten cents, apparently in a state of intoxication. William Stapleton was the name the fellow gave at the police station and he said that he hailed from Pittsburg. He pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness in manifest court this morning and Judge Field sent him to the county jail for seven days.
Tom Nash was unable to pay $5.10 and will spend the glorious 24th of July in the lock-up, his sentence being for ten days. He is likely to have plenty of company as the police are anxious to get all the veteran offenders safely housed before the great day dawns.
Hugh Stockman was unable to pay $1.10 and went to the hospital for seven days. Charles Arner agreed to pay $3.10 by next Monday and was given his freedom. James Dermody, a transient, pleaded not guilty to a drunkenness charge and his trial was set for this afternoon.

TAX BATTLE IN SENATE TODAY

ROOT TO BE OPPOSED BY CUMMINS AND BAILEY IN FIGHT.

SEE TARIFF BILL'S FINISH

Less Than a Dozen Schedules Remain Unpassed—Eleven Weeks of Senate Wrangling Have Given Few of Promised Reductions.

Washington, June 28.—Before adjournment to-night the senate hopes to have the few remaining schedules of the tariff bill out of the way and, it is expected, will get a start on the corporation tax battle, which promises to be a hot one.

Secretary Root will lead the fight for the president's project, and so far there seems little oratorical support in sight for him. The stalwart ally of the senate is not long on orators.

Bailey to Lead Minority.

Senator Bailey will lead the Democratic end of the opposition. Senator Cummins will lead the insurgent fight. Both will try to save their income tax amendment. For neither, however, is anything but defeat in sight. This probability will make no difference in the amount of talk that will be wasted. Senators Hughes, Nowlands, Rayner and Danahy of the Democrats and practically all the insurgents from North and West Virginia to La Follette will insist in orating.

The schedules to be settled on before the corporation and income tax are settled, embrace the questions of cotton, the cotton bagging, binding twine, cotton, cotton waste, arsenic, clay, asphaltum, steel rails and structural steel.

After the corporation tax will come the administrative features of the bill, the maximum and minimum rate and drawback provisions. Only extremely hot weather can force final action on the bill within less than three weeks' time.

Glove Duty to Go Up.

Eleven weeks of tariff wrangling by the senate has succeeded in tramping out of the Aldrich bill practically all semblance of "downward revision." And with President Taft apparently victorious in getting the finance committee to adopt a corporation tax, there is less hope of "downward" favors from the conferees.

The senate did make some reductions. It restored the Dingley rates on women's gloves and cotton hosiery, which the house had boosted. But it had its fingers crossed. For by a parliamentary bit of strategy, the proponents of the increased duty seem certain to win out in conference. And the women of Chicago and the west, who pleaded and scolded so dramatically will be most likely to find themselves cheated of their triumph.

G. A. R. TO HONOR FOUNDER.

Will Unveil Statue of Dr. Stephenson in Senate Chamber.

Washington, June 28.—One of the greatest events in the history of the Grand Army of the Republic will occur when the statue erected in this city of Dr. Benjamin Franklin Stephenson, founder of the organization, will be unveiled July 3.

In connection with the unveiling exercises there will be a parade of all available United States military and naval forces and the district militia. President Taft will deliver an address, followed by Representative J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, who will be the orator of the day.

The shaft is of granite, about forty feet high and triangular in shape. On each of its three sides are groups in bronze representing the three cardinal principles of the G. A. R.—fraternity, charity and loyalty. On the western side is a bronze idealized medallion of Dr. Stephenson in the uniform of an officer of the civil war. It cost $40,000.

"DIVINE HEALER" IN JAIL.

Schlatter is Arrested in Des Moines for Alleged Fraud.

Des Moines, Ia., June 28.—"Divine Healer" Schlatter who declares his right name is Charles McLean, is in jail here charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Information against Schlatter was filed by J. Anderson of Clinton, who declares the healer accepted a large sum of money from him as advance payment for a cure he was to make but which never materialized. He says "Schlatter" left town without paying him back a cent.

At police station when searched a roll of money aggregating $755 and three diamonds valued at $200 each were found in his bags.

Money and its Uses.
Money is the clothing of a gentleman; he may wear it well or ill. Some carry great quantities of it gracefully; some, with a studied supply, present a decent appearance; very few will bear inspection who are absolutely stripped of it.—George Meredith.

How to Clean Gold.

The First "Blue Laws"
The name "blue laws" was given to the first collection of laws framed for the government of the New Haven colony. They were published in collective form in 1650, the volume being in a blue cover, which gave rise to the name that has clung to the laws ever since.

Friendship.
If a man does not make a new acquaintance as he advances through life, he will soon find himself left alone. A man, sir, should keep his friendship in constant repair.—John Ruskin.

A Common Heritage.
The people of Southampton, England, wish to erect a monument to the Pilgrim fathers, and the mayor of that city has suggested that Americans might be interested to the extent of contributing cash to the project.

Evidently a Clubman.
A prominent man called to condole with a lady on the death of her husband, and concluded by saying: "Did he leave you very much?" "Nearly every night," was the reply.—Tit-Bits.

Stevenson's Tribute to Friendship.
If we find but one to whom we can speak out of our heart freely, with whom we can walk in love and simplicity without dissimulation, we have no ground of quarrel with the world. —Stevenson.

Infalible Test of Butter.
Pure butter will not melt under a temperature of 95 degrees, when it will leave a sweet and wholesome liquid, but adulterated butter melts at 89 into a liquid with a repulsive odor.

True Greatness.
A man's true greatness lies in the consciousness of an honest purpose in life, founded on a just estimate of himself and everything else, and a steady obedience to the rule which he knows to be right.—Long.

Woman Suffrage.
Gladys—"So you've sent Herbert about his business, have you?" May-belle—"Yes, but I have since used the—er—recall on him."

Painting a Distinction.
"A high financier should be something of an economist, should he not?" "I don't think so," answered Mr. Dun-It Stax. "The object of an economist is to see what he can get along with; that of a high financier is to see what he can get away with."

SALE of WASH GOODS

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

Tuesday Morning We Will Put On Sale Several Thousand Yards of Colored Summer Dress Muslins

We will make two lots of them. Included will be many beautiful novelties, usually found only in a first-class wash goods stock, figures, stripes, checks, embroidered novelties, etc. An assortment large enough to satisfy anyone. We take this means of reducing our large stock for the next two months. Judging from present indications you will want to wear something cool.

LOT 1 AT 9c

It seems almost a crime to sell these lovely dress stuffs at such a price, and it takes a great deal of decision to do it in the face of the fact that we expected to make a profit on them. Included are goods that are excellent values at 12 1/2c, 15c and 20c.

We have shut our eyes to the loss we will have to stand. It is simply a question of getting them off our shelves, as we must reduce the stock. Lot No. 2 includes a wide range of styles that have been at such prices as 25c, 30c, 35c, 40c and 50c.

WHO CAN'T AFFORD ONE OR MORE NEW DRESSES WHEN THEY CAN BE BOUGHT AT SUCH FIGURES? While they last buy them at 9c and 14c per yard.

Special Sale of Muslin Curtains, per pair, 39c

Full four inch ruffle, all seams double stitched two styles, with 3 and 5 rows of tuckings, good strong muslin, very desirable for summer cottages and bed room windows.

VUDOR PORCH SHADES

Reinforced Hammocks, Chair Hammocks. This weather makes a lively demand. We hang them free.

THE WOOL SUITS

that we offer at $11 and $17 are being appreciated. "If you need a new suit, don't let a little warm weather interfere. We have got to have it—in fact, we must have it, or no crops." Every wool suit included prices formerly $15.00 to $50.00.

Sale of Short Sleeve Shirt Waists

While short sleeve waists have given way somewhat to the tailored and long sleeve styles, they are by no means out of date as many women will continue wearing them all through the hot summer months and for that reason this sale comes at a most opportune time. These waists are fine sheer lawn, finely tailored, are the Standard make which need no introduction to Janesville people. They come in plain tucked, tucked with lace and embroidery insertions, button in back. This is an exceptionally good chance to save money on waists that you will want later in the season if not at present.
